THEME

To "VICTORY" we turn our thoughts, our efforts, our time, our money, and even the lives of our boys. To you, our friends, our co-workers, and all who read our brief remarks throughout this, our PACKROMAK for 1944, we hold forth our theme, our goal, our prayer—Victory in 1944 that our boys may not have died in vain.

CLASS PROPHECY

Today, July 4, 1955, has been such a lovely one. Mrs. Richard Stewart, the former Miss Bennette Wilson, entertained the Washington High School Class of 1944 at a reunion barbecue at her lovely country home, "Bennetta," in Robersonville.

While I was amicably engaged in conversation with the hostess, I heard someone talking up a "blue breez" behind me and turning around I beheld Charline Beil and Dr. Zeno Edwards, the most talkative in our class, arguing about something. Mrs. Edwards, the former Sally Ann Elliott, was trying to break it up. While I was listening to them, Mr. and Mrs. Langley Dixon and Major and Mrs. Bill Ambrose passed by and I turned to chat with them. Langley is pitching for the New York Yankees, and he and his wife Isabel are now vacationing in the good old South. Major Ambrose is stationed at Lowery Field in Colorado. He married an heiress from somewhere in California, and they have two lovely children.

I heard someone laughing like a hyena and whirling around I saw Lynn Kelly and Jean Lawrence swapping tales about their high school days. They both married captains in the Marine Corps who, because of urgent duties, were unable to be present today. Walking over to greet them, I was joined by Cora Taylor, Martha Jordan, and Catherine Nichols, Martha recently made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera and was naturally feeling quite proud. Cora (she's lost a little weight) and Catherine are successful Powers girls now and, for my part, they'd be my "favorite pin-ups."

Our class is well represented in the WAVEs and WACs. Rosa Civils, Doris Cox, Margaret Smith, Ruby Sullivan, Gladys Upton, and Vivian Stokes joined the service soon after our graduation. I roamed over to speak to them, and lo and behold! Whom did I see but Harold Woolard, who was voted the laziest boy in our class. Evidently we made a mistake because he is now a successful civil aeronautics pilot. Carlton Hudgins, W. C. Perry, William Alligood, and J. B. Swain are prosperous farmers and have settled down with lovely girls to rear a family. Henry Carawan, a prominent engineer, walked up and slapped me on the back. It was the first time I've seen him in years. He and his wife have just returned from a tour of Europe and I think he is still the same flirt he was in '44, judging by his roving eye.

You all remember Haywood Broome. He is now the manager of a large wholesale grocery store in Chicago. Elmer Tripp, Elwood Jarvis, and Jack Barnett are also associated with the same firm.

Daphne Toler, Colleen Currier, Nell Williams, and Dot Sasnette are registered nurses. They joined the Cadet Nurses Corps after they were graduated from W. H. S. While we were talking over how we used to cut up in commercial, two lovely young ladies walked up and spoke to me. It was none other than Verna Lee and Elizabeth Perkins. Elizabeth is now the private secretary to the Congressman from the Greensboro district. Verna and Howard were married a year or two ago, and they are living in Florida.

Bennette served us the most wonderful barbecue and we all felt like we had eaten too much. Bill Cherry said, "It sure is some layout." He is the owner of the Washington Daily News now, and Carolyn Shaw is the society editor of the same. He was telling me about James Whitley's nice "Palace Theater" that has been completed in the old home town. Speaking of the Cherrys, Truman and Jack are now engaged in the retail grocery business known as Cherry and Cherry, Inc. Frances Cecil and Jane Small are keeping books for them and I'm sure they are quite efficient.

I heard someone chattering like a magpie behind me. You might have known it was Ottis Peele, who is now manager of Penders in the old home town. He married a cute little girl from out Old Ford Way. Mrs. David Cox, who before her marriage was Miss Lola Mae Ball, joined us for a short chat.

It seems only fitting and proper that we mention the members of our class who entered the service before graduation or left to enroll in a military school. Though they were not present in person today, they were there in spirit. Bobby MacKenzie, Jimmie Graves, Bill Baugham, Harold Robinson, William Nelson, Milford Tetterton, Alfred Jefferson, Richard Morgan, and Eddie Stokes are among these.

There was a great uproar behind me and I walked over to join the clamoring crowd. I discovered that Tune Nunnelee, the famous movie idol, was the center of attraction. The girls were swooning over him worse than they used to over Frank Sinatra. Speaking of Sinatra reminds me of something. Simmons Patrick is the new swooner-crooner sensation and they tell me the girls faint like flies when they hear him sing "All My Heart For You." Mrs. Nathan Cox and Geneva Ingalls were in the crowd. You remember that Susie and Nathan were married several years back.

I heard someone call me and was I surprised to hear Bill Gravely's voice? He is now a successful tobacco auctioneer and has been with the tobacco market in Turkey for the last five years. He married a very attractive girl from France so I am told by Skeets Howard, who is the football coach at the old Alma Mater now. Just the other day I had a letter from Lola Beacham who is the librarian at W. H. S. She said that Retha Ecklin and Evelyn Roberson are teaching there now.

I spied several latecomers entering the garden gate. Dr. William Mayo and his nurse, Miss Athalia Alligood, had arrived. Incidentally, he is one of the very best brain specialists at Johns Hopkins. Speaking of doctors, Don Silverthorne is now associated with the Tayloe Hospital.

Oh! I almost forgot something. Mary Duke, Mary Hardison, and Pauline Hardison are private secretaries now. Ola Sheppard, Annie Tetterton, and Muriel Roberson were married soon after graduation. Muriel married Abner Alligood, one of our former classmates.

I heard a great commotion over near the barn and I strolled over to join the crowd. There stood Lieutenants Braxton Brooks, Russell Sasnett, and Russell Everett. Our good old class is well represented in the service.

"Hi, Miss Beasley," greeted me from the garden gate and there before me was Miss Rose Marion Worthy, who is now running for Congress. She always was running for something, even in grammar school. Marion informed me that Maggie Stocks is now receptionist for a large publishing company in Chicago.

A big limousine drove up the flower-bordered lane and everyone was standing on tiptoe to see who the ritzy arrivals were. It was Sue Williams (I hear she is going to be married in the very near future) and Mrs. Robert Gorham, whom you remember as Anna Moore, our faithful secretary. Anna has just returned to the mainland from Hawaii where she is now making her home. On the way they picked up J. B. Wall, who is a successful radio engineer.

Mrs. Melvin Kelly, the former Maggie Cherry, came over and spoke to me. She was accompanied by Inez Gaylord, Myrtle Woolard, and Doris Gillikin who are competent beauty operators.

I was reading in the paper just the other day an account that Captain Jerry Leggett had written about his adventures in the South Pacific. He married a girl whom he met while in service, and they have a precious baby boy.

Thomas Darracott is to be ordained for the ministry in the very near future, so I am told by Eli Saleeby, who is now a mining engineer in South America.

The other day while visiting friends in Washington. I decided to go down to Welch's, the old hangout. Was I surprised to find that Ruby Sheppard is assistant manager! Pattie Moore is working there also.

The sun was sinking low in the west and the crowd began to leave. With a lump in my throat I walked down the lane and out the garden gate. This was a most happy reunion of the Class of '44 and one that will live long in the memories of us all.

Respectfully yours,

MARTHA WOLFE, Class Prophet.

TOAST TO THE CLASS OF '44

Here's to the class of '44, Who've had laughter, tears and work galore! Here's to their future; bright may it be, While they live in the glow of this great liberty.

Here's to the great women and to the great men That go to make up what this nation has been, For from this class of the year '44 Come more girls and boys like the great ones of yore.

To make worthy this country
For which we're fighting today,
And I can truthfully, honestly say,
May they have the best kind of luck in the best kind of way.

BENNETTE WILSON, Class Poet.
